The kitchen is a good size, currently fitted with functional units. To the rear of the ground floor is a further versatile reception room which, with the added benefit of its own shower room, could equally serve as a third bedroom — ideal for guests, a home office, or a self-contained arrangement.

On the first floor are two well-proportioned double bedrooms, both featuring built-in storage and a family bathroom. The landing is spacious enough for a study/home office area.

Additional benefits include UPVC double glazing and gas-fired central heating, ensuring comfort and efficiency throughout the home.

Externally, there is a secluded south facing garden, enjoying a sunny outlook throughout the day and offering excellent privacy and a highly versatile outdoor space. A single garage and driveway provide convenient off-road parking for two additional cars.
